

One-man protest against tax system

Local businessman Wendy Sekura reluctantly paid his taxes last Thursday.

In a one-man protest against a tax system he says removes people's incentive to work, the Drayton Valley area resident paid approximately $11,000 in one-dollar bills.

The money, delivered in plastic bags to the County of Parkland office in Stony Plain, represented a portion of his 1986-87 taxes.

Sekura said the protest symbolized a growing sense of frustration.

"It's a frustration shared by myself and other working people who feel the portion of their income taken by the various levels of government through the many forms of taxation is too large and, for some reason, still getting larger."

Sekura is interested in forming a Canadian Ratepayers' Association similar to the one formed a decade ago in California.

The American citizen-inspired lobby group managed to cut taxes substantially in California.

"Tax cuts were made to the taxpayer and yet services seem to remain the same after the waste in the system was abolished," noted Sekura.

Area resident Wendy Sekura reluctantly pays his taxes in one-dollar bills.

He added the government and its accompanying bureaucracy is spending money "in a growing number of areas we could do without."

"Some people are taxed out of their property they've worked hard for, and these tax dollars are given to other people to play with."

Sekura said he is also concerned about budgets "that have to be spent even when they are not needed, for fear of receiving less the following year."

Sekura added he is calling for a fair and equitable system of taxation.

"Should some families really have to pay from five to 10 times as much for exactly the same service that is received by other families?"

County officials who accepted Sekura's payment required 1½ hours to count the money.

Sekura said he has gone through the appeal process before, but to no avail.

Town responds to call for help

By Steve Fletcher

Drayton Valley area residents responded enthusiastically to a call for donations of food, clothing and money to assist victims of the Edmonton tornado disaster.

An ad hoc collection depot was set up at the arena during the long weekend by the town's Disaster Services department.

By noon Monday, approximately 1½ truck loads of food and clothing had piled up in the arena lobby, said Dave Turner, coordinator of Disaster Services.

Moreover, $1,385 in cash donations was collected, with local retailers Mar Ne's and Fashion Image combining their efforts and contributing nearly $2,000 worth of new clothes.

Fran MacLellan, who provided most of the impetus for getting things started, said the whole operation was smoothly run.

"I talked to Manny (town manager Manny Deol) at noon on Saturday...two hours later we were ready to go."

"The response was tremendous," she added. "...I think people realize that it could be been us...they were very concerned and really wanted to help."

At least 15 residents volunteered their time to sift through food and clothing in the box-clogged arena lobby and loaded up two Edmonton-bound trucks — both donated by Red's Express Delivery Service.

Turner said organizations that helped in the collection drive numbered too many to list.

But individually, the largest financial donation was a $500 contribution from pensioners Fred and Adeline Duckett.

Fred Duckett said dipping into their savings to help the tornado victims made them feel a little better.

"I really think we did the right thing...we went through it all in the '30s. We know what it's like to go with practically nothing to eat."

The Red Cross will be accepting financial donations at the Treasury Branch until August 14, said Peggy Tyler, president of the local association.

Tax receipts for donations over $5 can be picked up at a later date.

RCMP to battle drunken driving

The provincial government has launched an aggressive campaign to reduce drunken driving during the summer months.

In a news release, E.D. Hahn, Alberta director of law enforcement, says police agencies across the province will be enhancing the check stop program because "the incidence of alcohol-related traffic accidents in the summer months remains above reasonable levels."

Local statistics for the month of July illustrate that this seasonal pattern does exist.

As of July 30, there were 15 charges of impaired driving laid, Cpl. Tim Vatamaniuk of the Drayton Valley RCMP said, adding that seven of the charges occurred within one week.

This is compared to May and June, when eight charges of drunken driving were the monthly norm.

Asked to interpret the statistics, Vatamaniuk said: "I'd have to say the increase in warmer temperatures and holiday time encourages people to sit and relax and to have a few drinks. People should be cautioned against driving" during these instances.

The Drayton Valley detachment's check stop program is carried on a regular basis year-round.

"The location is chosen at random...we usually aim for one check stop a night."

Vatamaniuk pointed out that most cases of impaired driving take place on a weekend, with the majority occurring on Thursday, Friday, or Saturday nights.

"We may have had five last week, but I'm sure three fell on the same night."

Statistics also show that the total number of alcohol-related driving offences is up dramatically over the past year.

In 1986, 52 people gave breath samples at the local detachment. With 1987 barely half-completed, 56 people have been put through breathalyzer tests.

"At least 95 per cent of these (samples) have to do with drinking drivers," Vatamaniuk estimated.

Minister Joe Clark is scheduled to attend the junior amateur rodeo at Tomahawk this Friday night.
It will be his only official stop in the area.

Robert Schmidt of Lodgepole won a car at Klondike Days in Edmonton.

Charlene Jenkins has another job.
Besides being manager of the Park Valley pool, Jenkins will handle some of the administration duties at the arena. Half of her days are spent at the town office and the other half at the swimming pool.

The arena will open Sept. 21 and not Aug. 30 as listed in the August Calendar of Events.

The Drayton Valley Chamber of Commerce will be putting together an ad hoc committee to study the town's business license bylaw.

The town has the bylaw currently under review, and is requesting business people and merchants send in concerns or recommendations for possible changes.

The chamber should have its committee ready to go within two weeks.

Drayton Valley RCMP report that four people were charged with drunken driving over the long weekend.

Cpl. Tim Vatamaniuk says one of those charged could face an additional charge of dangerous driving.

The weekend incidents brings the number to six impaired driving offences in the last five days.

Other than that, Vatamaniuk said the weekend was a quiet one, probably due to weather conditions.

Evansburg RCMP also report a quiet long weekend with no major incidents, despite several annual events taking place.

The Drayton Valley Fire Department is continuing to investigate the recent trailer fire near town. The trailer was destroyed by fire.

Firefighters battle mobile home fire.

Lightning struck Thursday at this house in town.

Flames destroy mobile home

Two firemen were taken to hospital as a result of a mobile home trailer fire last Tuesday night.

Firemen Spencer Ross and Jim Bain were treated for heat exhaustion.

The firemen were part of a small crew that attended the mobile home fire four miles west and one mile north of town. The trailer was gutted throughout and damage has been estimated at $14,400.

Heat from the fire was extensive coupled with the warm day.

Besides the fire itself, the firemen had to deal with a shortage of water. With only 1,000 gallons in their truck and two standby tank trucks on their way, an emergency generator was set up to run water from a near by pond.

No one was home at the time of the fire.

Both the fire department and the RCMP are continuing their investigation into the cause of the trailer fire.

Last Thursday afternoon, a house at 4817-51st Avenue was struck by lightning. When the firemen arrived at the scene, north of the Park Valley indoor swimming pool, smoke was pouring out of the roof.

Damage was limited to the roof and the electrical system.

No one was home at the time.

Tourism

Highway 22 association grabbing attention

Interest is mounting in the formation of the Mountain View Tourism Development Association.

The association will include communities along Highway 22, from Mayor's in the north to Turner Valley in the south.

Reg Dean of Caroline was elected chairman at an organizational meeting last week. Each community along the route will be invited to have a director on the board.

Four committees were established at last week's meeting to deal with membership, lobbying the government, marketing and research and sales.

The biggest push for immediate upgrading to the highway has come from Caroline, Sundre, Crenona and Rocky Mountain House.

But Dean is hopeful that Drayton Valley will not be involved and he's had calls from Entwistle and Mayerthorpe in the north and several communities to the south.

Horst Boehm represented the Drayton Valley & District Chamber of Commerce at one highway meeting and Rod Schulz, chairman of the chamber's tourist committee is expected to attend a directors meeting this week.

Dean says one of their priorities is to get some of the gravel section along the route paved as soon as possible.

Two areas that are being considered are between Caroline and Sundre and a 10-mile stretch between Rocky and Drayton Valley.

New brochure informative, town section a let-down

By Steve Fletcher
The Evergreen Tourist Association's new brochure - "Welcome to Evergreen: A Zone for all Seasons" - is packed-full of general information geared to anyone interested in touring the area.

And in comparison to other tourist association pamphlets, the 47-page booster is undeniably a stand-out.

Brimming with color photos and other graphics, the just-released brochure should be one readily matched up by visitors to tourist booths throughout the province.

Yet, at the local level, the section on Drayton Valley has to be one of its few failures.

The slim two-page chapter consists predominantly of a rather long and rambling historical account of the town (perhaps hinting that the sun set on Drayton Valley years ago).

This survey of the years gone by is only briefly interspersed with descriptions of location and recreational attractions, which rarely go beyond the most general of statements (i.e., "If you enjoy the outdoors, Drayton Valley and surrounding area is a good place to explore.")

Despite this drawback, sections on the nearby communities of Entwistle, Evansburg, Wildwood, and Lodgepole are all more than adequate with each town's tourist-alluring attractions well-documented.

Along with the narratives on the 16 communities presently contained in the zone, the guide also includes a battery of informative pieces on other subjects.

Listed under regional sub-heads are details of the 49 campgrounds found within the boundaries of Evergreen.

For the tourist equipped with fishing rod, a two-page summary of all waterbodies in the area could be handy, along with its description of the species of fish indigenous to each one.

Information concerning emergency numbers and sewage disposal sites could also prove to better acquaint the tourist with the unknown territory being explored.

In a recent interview, Evergreen Tourism Association President Ken Albrecht described the brochure as one example of how it planned to use its substantial increase in capital.

The pamphlet, in "much-improved over last year," he said. "It's a new concept. Totally revamped."

In this case, it was money well spent.

County of Parkland

Man appeals order

By Steve Fletcher
A Drayton Valley area resident pleaded his case last week against an order to cease operations of a business on his acreage and remove an unauthorized dwelling.

Ben DeJonge appeared before the County of Parkland Development Appeal Board in Stony Plain requesting the county reconsider the order.

He said the occupants of the dwelling were looking after livestock on his acreage. DeJonge also claimed that no business was taking place on his 18-acre property, located just north of Drayton Valley.

A business sign on the premises was advertising for a Seba Beach man who keeps his horses at the acreage, DeJonge said.

An official pointed out that the sign was a crucial factor behind the county's actions.

"The fact the sign was there would indicate to us that there was a business" taking place on the property without a permit - and hence the order to cease operations.

DeJonge also claimed the county was reversing itself from an earlier decision regarding development on his property.

"I was given permission to build (a barn) 11 years ago, and now you're taking it away."

One board member countered that the "laws have changed substantially since the barn was put in place."

DeJonge also wanted to know the name of the complainant and his reason for going to county authorities.

However, appeal board chairman Ron Pollock said the board "was not obligated to disclose the nature of the complaint."

Local businessman Wendy Sekura appeared at the hearing on DeJonge's behalf and used the opportunity to question the power of the county over its ratepayers.

Describing board members as "landlords," he asked rhetorically why "living standards (are) placed above economics?"

Sekura added that the county has established too much control over people through its bylaws.

"We have a very serious problem here...why must a man come here to plead to make a living?"

A decision on the appeal is expected to be made within 15 days.

Entrance

Group takes up important sign space...

The entrance signs to Drayton Valley are something to be proud of.

The signs, located on Highway 22, at the north and south entrances to town, have caught many a passers-by attention, for their excellent craftsmanship.

However, some of the glamour has been lost, because some unknown group has seen fit to place their own meeting sign in the same location.

That group, whoever they may be, might feel it's okay. But what happens when the Lions, Kinamen, Legion, Elks, Knights of Columbus and the 100 other clubs, organizations and churches in town demand equal space.

If other groups want to advertise their meetings they should look into erecting their own sign post, away from the main entrance to town landmark. It's a common scene in many communities.

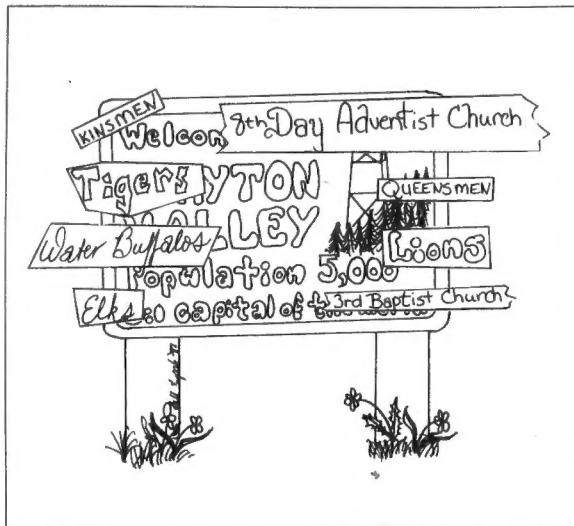

Club does it again

The Drayton Valley Minor Baseball Association has done it again.

For the third straight year the volunteer association has hosted a major tournament.

Their latest project was the beaver B provincials. This came on the heels of a very successful Western Canada tourney in '86 and the bantam boys provincials in '85.

Everyone involved with these tournaments is to be commended for accepting the challenge and making the community proud of your accomplishments.

Editorial opinion remains editor's job

We often get asked why we run certain articles or photos.

It's a valid question.

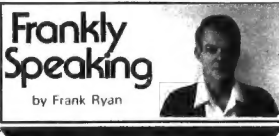

Most papers have their own editorial opinion. And, ours likely differs from most other Alberta weeklies.

Our reporters are directed, when covering an event, to get the facts. If they wish to add any color, they can interview the main characters, whether it's a meeting or a sporting event. They are cautioned to take particular attention when taking down a quote.

A reporter does not include his or her own view point in the article.

Editorial comment is left to the editor, in the form of the weekly editorial and in this space...Frankly Speaking. On occasion, a reporter will do a COMMENT which is often their editorial view point.

When we run photos, we look for the best one that the photographer has taken. Rule of thumb that most photographers follow is, expect to get one good photo in every 20. That's why you'll often see a photographer take a lot of shots, but only one or two make the paper.

by Frank Ryan

During the recent Buck Lake Stampede, we selected a series of shots where a bull rider was horned by a bull. Those photos were selected because the photographer covering the event, felt it was the most dramatic event at the Stampede.

Although the reporter/photographer felt bad about the rider's unfortunate death, she did the job that was assigned. Cover the Stampede and get some good photos.

Selecting a story/photos for the front page, because it is the first page readers usually look at, it's our policy to go with a photo or story that carries the most impact. It doesn't always have to be our best.

In writing editorials, it's our policy to present an issue. If we don't get any reader feedback in the form of letters to the editor, the issue is dropped, and another editorial angle is followed up.

We are often criticized by town council for many of the articles that appear in the paper.

Quite often the stories or photos we run, are tips from residents who are angered by something, but come to us because they don't get any or little satisfaction from their elected officials.

And, in a nut shell, that's our job. We are the official opposition. Acting on behalf of the people.

Following up tips from local and area residents is high on my priority list. A call about a story, such as the Ian Hoyland human interest articles/story that appeared on the front page of our July 14 issue, resulted in a telephone call from an interested reader. Any reader concern is followed up by our editorial staff.

Keep the calls coming.

Residents' comments on dogs foolish, writer says

Dear Editor:

I'm writing in response to the "Streetbeat Question" and the article that appeared in The Western Review on July 14, 1987.

I've been a resident of Drayton Valley for a year and a half, having moved here from Georgetown, Ontario, and in the time I have been here I have never heard so many people complaining about dogs or dog owners. I get the distinct impression that a lot of people in this town would ban dogs within town limits, which in my opinion is not only foolish, but unnecessary.

I am the owner of a black Labrador retriever, as well as a cat, and I do my best to make sure that my dog does not bother anyone or anyone's property, and I have also made a point of that when I am out walking my dog that whenever I come across children or adults who seem afraid, that I show them how gentle he is and let them pet him and tell them the name of my dog. I figure this precaution is worth taking just in case my dog does get out of the yard, people will not be afraid of him when they meet him on the street.

I think that most of the people in this town take proper care of their pets and are responsible pet owners, but of course there always a few that wreck it for everyone else. I have quite often seen dogs running free in my back alley, but I figure if they are not doing anything wrong, why push the panic button and have the dog's owner pay a minimum $70 fine. People in this town should realize that most of the dogs are owned by families that have children and these people wouldn't knowingly own a vicious dog.

The reason I felt I had to write this letter is because people are always getting up in arms over dogs in town, but they don't seem to care that children in this town ranging from the ages of about 5 to 15 can be seen at later hours of the evening hanging around parks, schools and uptown with no adult supervision, and now that summer holidays are upon us the problem seems to be worsening.

There used to be a town bylaw in effect that had a curfew (I believe 10 p.m.) in effect for young people to eliminate congregating in the streets. I called the town office and was informed that this bylaw is no longer in effect. I think a 10 p.m. curfew bylaw should be brought back into effect because I do not think there is anything to occupy young people after 10 p.m., except maybe vandalism or sitting in the park playing their portable stereos at unreasonable volumes. Taxes in this town are plenty high enough without having to worry about increases due to vandalism.

I think if people started getting their priorities in order and not worrying about what the Jones family down the street is doing, we would be a lot better off.

Recent article found offensive

Dear Editor:

The Western Review recently published an article which I found to be offensive. The article quotes Biblical passages in an attempt to support a biased and hateful view of the Roman Catholic Church. The article betrays an uninformed view of the Roman Catholic Church, a lack of integrity in interpreting the Bible, and a lack of Christian charity in communicating a personal opinion.

Every person is entitled to their private opinions and should be allowed freedom of expression. However, when this view claims to represent "the Christians of Drayton Valley", it is both misleading and unethical. I would recommend that in the future such articles, if published, be correctly acknowledged.

RCMP identify collision victim

Breton RCMP have positively identified the victim of a two-vehicle collision July 28 near Alder Flats.

Dalton Lloyd Parker, 52, of Buck Lake, died in the accident that occurred 1 1/2 miles south of the intersection of highways 18 and 22.

Parker, whose body was burned beyond recognition in the fire that followed the accident, was attempting to cross Highway 22 when his one-ton pickup truck was hit by a half-ton pickup.

The three occupants of the pickup truck were not seriously injured.

RCMP are continuing their investigation into the accident.

Funeral services for Parker were held last Thursday at the Alder Flats Community Centre. He is survived by his wife, two sons and a daughter.

Heat wave causes fan sales upswing

The recent heat wave had local cash registers ringing.

Alex Blais, manager of the Home Hardware store says he sold more fans and air conditioners in a two week period than he did in 12 months last year.

Recreation director Paul Neilsen reported that the Park Valley indoor swimming pool enjoyed some of their busiest days last week.

And, John Sufferon of John's Heating Plumbing and Air Condition Service says his phone was literally ringing off the hook.

Sufferon admitted that people who call his answering service, often hang up. Last week he had dozens of calls about air conditioners.

He even had eight calls about installing air conditioning units in local homes.

Despite all the calls and the extensive heat, Sufferon said he didn't face any real emergency situations.

However, there was reports last Thursday of some hail damage in the area as a result of an overnight hail storm. And, a house, located near the swimming pool, was struck by lightning last Thursday afternoon.

Tornado relief

Residents load boxes of food and clothing bound for the victims of last week's tornado.

Awaiting flood relief funding

By Bill Ingles
Although a year has passed since the August 1986 flood, Leduc County is still waiting for money to repair damage at a number of sites. Four locations are still being evaluated by engineers with a view to project approval from Alberta Environment, noted county secretary-treasurer Fred Roloff.

The county applied for over $200,000 in flood relief funding but so far only received about $90,000, he said. The majority of repair work is complete, however the council decision to use county public works crews caused a delay in funding when the government wouldn't accept county charges.

"If we had contracted the work out they would have picked up the whole tab. Instead we were paid on the basis of a formula. We have appealed the decision and hopefully we will be successful," he said.

Council will continue to deal with the aftermath of the 1986 flood at its August meeting, said Roloff.

In another provincial government program, farmers were compensated for silt build-up on fields which hampered crop development.

For Genesee-area farmer Harvey Greenhough, the government assistance meant the difference between success and failure in the 1987 crop year.

"Without provincial government aid it would have been doubtful whether we would have been able to put a crop in. On the whole it was assistance that was needed."

"We had floods before but this one was particularly disastrous. The flood took out a quarter-mile of dike, letting water spill out into the fields and allowing the currents to cross," he said.

The flood left sandy deposits in its wake - sand too deep to work into the fields.

For the Greenhough farm the only option was to haul away the build-up.

Although a lot of work is finished, there are still parts of the Greenhough farm waiting to be cleaned. Some parts of a field were seeded but working the land proved difficult.

In addition, the currents washed away topsoil, leaving sand or silt in its place. Depending on the flood course, either workable silt will remain or the topsoil will be washed away, leaving useless sand.

"It was a disaster - there are no two ways about it. We're thankful for what we got," said Harvey.

While the Greenhoughs normally farm about 1,100 acres, only about 880 acres were seeded in 1987.

Trade fair

No longer in jeopardy

An upsurge in both reservations means September's trade fair is no longer in jeopardy, says chamber of commerce president Mary Prentice.

"It is progressing quite well now," he said. "We've managed to rent out a number of booths (in recent weeks)."

The chamber will go ahead with showcasing the event in both the arena and curling rink as planned, nullifying a proposal to reduce it to just one venue.

The chamber has now rented out 60 of the 88 regular-sized booths. The six bulk-sized booths have "all been spoken for," Prentice said.

He added he is "fairly confident" all the booths will have occupants by August.

While there is no deadline for rentals, the chamber is hoping all confirmations are received prior to the advertising blitz next month.

Rentals have been rather slow in terms of local business, noted Prentice, adding there are a few more companies from out of town reserving booths compared to last year.

Meanwhile, another slow start in rounding up entertainment has also been rectified.

Prentice said the trade fair should now have a full complement of activities on the stage at the curling arena.

The trade fair runs September 11-13.

The 19th Hole

Playoffs are underway in the Drayton Valley men's league.

The top eight teams as of last week advanced to the playoff round.

The latest standings (as of July 29) had Mallett in front with 187 points followed by Tucker with 129, Sufferon 125, Wilneff 124, Cokes 122, Eaton 116, Novosel and Ganske 114, Neal 110, Mayhew 108, Chymycz 107, Mastro 105, Kuzek 101, Hood 99, Warren 98, Malanowich 92, Jamieson 89, Layden 86, Mattoon 70 and Pasay 53.

If you're one of those golfers who likes to tee up the old titleist for a bit of cash, read on.

On Sunday, Sept. 14th, starting at 1 p.m. a tournament based on the Texas scramble format will be held at the Stony Plain course. Lots of prizes will be up for grabs including $5,000 for the first hole-in-one on the par three, 148-yard third hole.

For more information call Dan Laurie at 963-5550.

Mario Annichairico, sports editor at our sister paper, the Leduc Representative, aces the 160-yard fifth at Rundle using a seven iron.

Jeff Smith of Drayton Valley missed the cut at the recent Alberta Amateur golf tourney in Edmonton.

Smith had a round of 76 and 80 for a 36 hole score of 156, missing the cut by eight strokes.

But last week, he was back on target, firing a 32 at the local course. Smith will play in a Swift Current tournament, Labor Day weekend and is looking forward to the provincial RCMP tournament in September.

The Drayton Valley Golf Club has a new president.

Archie Hood will fill the shoes of departing president Les Bannerman until the club's general meeting in April.

And, the club has awarded an honorary life membership to Norm Swendsen, in recognition of his contributions to the club.

The school, lasting one week, was offered by the Alberta Soccer Association and Drayton Valley Soccer Association.

Cowboy Flett Classic

Celebrities golfing for charity

By Megan Parker
Over 100 golfers took to the fairways last Thursday in the name of the handicapped at the third Cowboy Bill Flett Charity Golf Classic.

Eighteen celebrities teed off in a "best ball Texas scramble" including Wes Montgomery, Mark Messier and Ron Chipperfield to name a few.

The exact figures raised at the classic won't be known for at least a week but Cowboy Flett is hoping to exceed last year's figure of $8,000.

Flett says the participants in the tournament come to help sports and the handicapped people in the community.

"It's been very successful, and most of the celebrities that come say they'd like to come back."

Flett attributes most of the classic's success to Norm Swendsen, Marv Helm and Hal Meek, and gives credit to them for "doing most of the work."

The idea for the charity golf classic came about through a conversation a few years ago between Flett and Edmonton Oiler Dave Hunter.

"I've always been a big believer in the handicapped and Special Olympics" explained Flett, and so with this idea in mind the classic got started.

Hunter has been supportive since the start said Flett, adding "He goes out of his way to make sure all the guys (Oilers) show up."

Other celebrities participating were chuckwagon champion Doyle Malany, former NHL goalie and present goaltending coach for the Calgary Flames Glen Hall, wrestlers Ben Basarab and Tiger Tamasso, University of Alberta Golden Bear hockey coach Clare Drake, former Eskimo quarterback Tom Wilkinson, Oiler goalie Andy Moog, former Eskimo Ron Forwick, former Oiler Dave Lumley, Walter Buck, Randy Moller of the Quebec Nordiques, former Canadian Heavy weight boxing champ Ken Lakusta, and Al McCann of CFRN.

The winning team with 12 under par was captain Joe Palmer's group that included Les Tucker, Hamdon Hamilton, Ed Chymycz, Jim Selin and Ron Forwick.

Second place after a 4 hole tie breaker went to captain Chris Kelipour's teammates Cary Selin, Brian Hansen, John Hansen, Dwayne Swendsen and Ron Chipperfield.

Losers of the tie breaker round, third place place finishers were the Bill Spry team with Willie Andrey, John Sufferon Sr. Jim Stout, Dave Cox and Cowboy Flett.

Easyford earns win

By Frank Ryan

The last place Warburg Rams threw another scare into the Easyford Colts last Tuesday night.

For the second straight meeting, the league champion Colts took an early lead, 10-2 after the fourth. But the stubborn Rams charged back, only to lose 14-10.

In an earlier game, the Colts needed a three run homer in the bottom of the ninth to record a 19-17 decision after the Rams had battled back from a 14-3 deficit.

The Colts, who are now 12-and-2 on the season jumped into a 5-0 first inning lead and added two runs in both the second and third. Trailing 10-2 the Rams inched closer with five in the fifth but ran out of time when the game was called in the eighth due to darkness.

Jack Hutchinson led the Colts 13-hit attack with a single, double and home run. Kevin Hutchinson had a two run homer in the seventh. And, both Greg Pankiewicz and Colin Tuckwood had a single and double.

Rob Sarvas had a single and four bager for the Rams with Max Sarvas collecting two singles.

The Colts close out the regular season tonight (Tuesday) when they play the Drayton Valley Oilers in a 7 p.m. game at Lions Park.

Both the Colts and Oilers were winners at a recent tournament in Peers.

Easyford downed Peers Boss Truckers 10-2 to win the B final. They lost 6-3 to Edson in their opening game but qualified for the final with a 17-4 win over the Peers Slashers. The Oilers won the A division as they defeated the Edson Saints 9-8 in the final.

Tigers second

The Drayton Valley Tigers had to settle for the second place silver medal at the recent Western Canada oldtimers baseball tournament at Kindersley.

The Tigers went into the three day tournament as the favorites, after winning the event two years in a row.

Brooks handed the defending champs their first loss, a extra inning 5-4 setback.

After that loss, the Tigers reeled off four victories in a row. In round robin play, they downed Lumasden 13-3 and Dinmore 8-4.

In the semi finals the Drayton Valley squad defeated Macklin, Saskatchewan 8-4 and then downed Winnipeg 6-3 in the final.

This past weekend the Tigers participated in the provincials at Coar.

Birchwood open house planned

The development of Birchwood Village Greens is "progressing well," says the owner of the resort.

Don Bucar, president of Bucar Realty Ltd. of Calgary, said area residents are invited to take a look at the 640-acre site at an open house scheduled for August 15 and 16.

The open house will include a scale model of the completed development as well as free guided tours.

Slow-pitch tourney

Weather wreaks havoc

Local team Valley Auto captured first-place in A division play at a slow-pitch tournament held here over the weekend.

Scandia took second place, and the team from Haze, Alberta was awarded an honorable mention for "colorful decoration" — including spray-painted hair, said Tom Turner, organizer of the event.

The tourney was sponsored by Slow-Pitch Club 50/50, which came in third in the B division.

Last Chance Trucking of Drayton Valley was first place in the B division. The Kactus Kounty Killers (from Tillye) best out the con-

Local teams did well in the C division, taking both first and second place. First went to M&D Pipe, with second going to the Grenlins.

Turner said the rain caused havoc for the tournament, including extending its length from two days to three.

Rain steals trophies

The weather proved to be the enemy for the Easyford Colts, who got off to a good start at a baseball tournament in Heiler.

The Colts whipped Camrose 8-1 in the first game of the tourney and things looked bright — except for Bucar said a grand opening is slated for June 1988 — following the completion of the new clubhouse.

The premier or minister of tourism is anticipated to make an appearance at the ceremony, which will coincide "with the end of Phase 1 and the commencement of Phase 2," Bucar added.

Four construction phases are planned, with 650-700 sites ultimately being made available at the resort.

He added that the fastball diamonds were water-logged and unplayable, requiring some improvisations — including using the soccer field.

Despite these setbacks, the third annual event was a success, Turner said.

Drayton Valley United's soccer game against Whitecourt has been rescheduled.

Whitecourt postponed the game which was to be played on the weekend, said United player Blake Little.

The game will now be played at West Valley Park next Wednesday evening (August 12).

Bred Allen

Local pitcher impressive

Brad Allen didn't come home with the gold medal but his performance at the mid-jet baseball provincials was impressive.

Allen, a regular with Westlock, was picked up by Grimshaw for the provincials held at Oyen.

He hurled a two hitter and struck out 12 in Grimshaw's opening 9-6 win over Acme. And, Allen hurled a no-hitter for seven innings in a 12-inning 9-8 loss to Kurrimur. The winning run was unearned.

In their other games Grimshaw dropped a 7-5 squeaker to Oyen and 7-3 to Confederation Park, who went on to win the Alberta title.

Gas fill-ups

Service station closings may mean overnight stays

Out-of-town visitors who pass through Drayton Valley late at night are finding that had planning could leave them high and dry in town.

With no local service stations remaining open after midnight, only those holding keylock accounts with oil companies will be able to fill up their gas tanks when the attendants go home at night.

For the remainder, the only recourse would be to spend the night in town, either at a friend's place or at a hotel/motel.

The following is a list of the working hours of local service stations:

Turbo - 6 a.m. to 10 p.m. Monday-Saturday. Sundays - 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Fas Gas - 6 a.m. to 11 p.m. Monday-Friday. Weekends - 7 a.m. to 11 p.m.

Gross T Texaco - 7:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. Sundays - 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Shell - 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. Sundays - 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

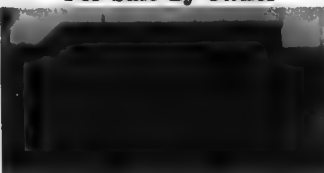

Valley Ems - 6 a.m. to 11 p.m. Weekends - 7 a.m. to 11 p.m.

Mohawk - 6 a.m. to midnight, seven days a week.

Drayton Valley Gulf - 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. Monday-Friday. Weekends - 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.

I charge thee therefore before God, and the Lord Jesus Christ, who shall judge the quick and the dead at his appearing and his kingdom; preach the word; be instant in season, out of season; reprove, rebuke, exhort with all long suffering and doctrine. For the time will come when they will not endure sound doctrine; but after their own lusts shall they heap to themselves teachers, having itching ears; and they shall turn away their ears from the truth, and shall be turned unto fables. But watch thou in all things, endure afflictions, do the work of an evangelist, make full proof of thy ministry. — The Word of God [2 Timothy 4:1-5]

Sanctimony and godlessness stem from the same source. Both have their origin with the deceiver and cheat, who doesn't want that any man should do the will of God. Whenever he leads mankind into seemingly pious, or ungodly ways, he just uses different tactics in order to keep man away from God and His will, and to lead them astray. Whoever turns away from God, comes under the influence of the devil, and enters into his ways; whoever rejects the truth of the Word of God, will come under the influence of the lie, and will be misled. When the Apostle Paul wrote to his co-worker Timothy, that there would come a time when men would not endure sound doctrine but heap to themselves teachers according to their own lusts, and that they would eventually turn away their ears from the truth, then this is especially true of our time. There are lots of preachers and church-denominations - but what do they really preach? Did not all of them start by twisting the truth and preaching what people want to hear, rather than what they ought to say? They have turned their ears from the truth. They deceive many by their humanist thinking and don't even notice that they are deceiving themselves, also. You can look wherever you want - it is true all over. At first it is the supposedly unimportant things that are rejected. Then they think that some things are not important, that some are not necessary for salvation, and others are not valid anymore for our times, etc. etc. By this attitude, TRUTH is abandoned step by step, and one day they won't even notice that they have destroyed the very foundation they had built on at first. Wherever the eyes are being closed from the light of TRUTH, and wherever TRUTH is rejected, one opens himself up to darkness; and the evil one invades with power and darkens the minds. In the end, all that's left over is a humanistic form of Christianity which expresses itself in humanitarian actions and activities, but which lacks the power to change hearts and to give salvation. Such service to God is vain! JESUS said that whosoever is of the TRUTH, will hear His voice! But if you reject the TRUTH in small as well as in weighty things, you actually reject JESUS CHRIST Himself! God's Word isn't empty words, but it is the expression of the will and being of God. It works eternal life in them that believe it, and God has given it to us to show us the way into the light, to freedom, and to Himself. Therefore, think on these things: if you only reject a little TRUTH of the Word of God, you abandon and apostatize God Himself, and you leave the way to God and eternal life!

Reserve-a-park

You've just finished a rough week at the office. Friday after work you load the family into the car along with the camping gear and rush out to your favorite campground...only to find the "Sorry, Full" sign at the front gate.

If that's ever happened to you, it's time you discovered Reserve-a-Park. This full-service campground reservation service is offered by Alberta Recreation and Parks to make your camping experience more enjoyable (and more predictable).

To make a booking, simply phone the park of your choice between 8:15 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. weekdays, anytime up to 24 hours in advance. Resident staff will guarantee your spot until 8 p.m. on the day of your scheduled arrival, or even later if you inform them of a delay.

A $5 fee, payable upon arrival, is charged for each reservation. Seniors may camp free of charge, but will be required to pay the reservation fee.

Campgrounds offering the reservation this year are: Aspen Beach (748-4066); Big Knife (574-2321); Carson-Pegans (778-6628); Cold Lake (638-3737); Crimson Lake (845-2330); Cross Lake (681-2281); Cypress Hills (893-3777); Dillberry Lake (858-3824); Dinosaur (878-4587); Garner Lake (636-3991); Gooseberry Lake (577-2241); Kananaskis Central; Bow Valley Campground (873-3843); Mt. Kidd RV Park (591-7700); Kananaskis East; Little Elbow Campground; MacLean Creek Campground (949-3754); Kananaskis West; Peter Lougheed Provincial Park - Bouton Creek, Elkwood, Lower Lake campgrounds (591-9236); Kinbrook Island (362-2962); Lesser Slave Lake (849-1103); Little Bow (897-3833); Miquelon Lake (672-7308); Moonshine Lake (862-2266); Moose Lake (826-5853); Pembina River (727-3443); Pigeon Lake (596-2644); G. Gen. Injury sidelines Pysar

Justin Pysar's baseball season is over.

The former Drayton Valley Minor Baseball product, who made the national youth team, is on the sidelines with a hairline fracture. The injury occurred when Pysar fouled off a ball, hitting him on the foot, during an exhibition game with the national team.

The injury is expected to sideline him for at least five weeks.

Pysar now makes his home in Edmonton.

Aqua Blues win regional championships

By Shell Carson
Mark and Gwen Hook held their 40th wedding anniversary at the Warburg Legion hall, July 11.

Many friends and relatives attended. Music was provided by Lois Robinson, Hal Klucny, Willard Robinson, Wayne and Terry Hooks and Mel Crump. Out of town guests were Beatrice (Hooks) Virock of Vancouver, Mahara Alden of Calgary and Mel Crump of Calgary. There were also guests from Edmonton, Grand Prairie, Drayton Valley, Alder Flats, Leduc and Calmar. An enjoyable time was had by all.

Marty Carson was invited to join the Morinville Aqua Blues Mosquito B baseball team in their bid to get Provincial Playoff ball in Veteran, Alberta. The team won the Northern Alberta Championship in Sherwood Park easily on July 18.

In Veteran on July 24 the team beat the Southern Champion Beisicker team in a tense 9 inning game with Beisicker having some team advantage. The following day the boys let a 4-1 lead to Sunday slip away at the top of the sixth inning and were unable to bat their way back at the bottom of the sixth. They then lost their third game to the host team of Veteran

Breton News

Saturday afternoon. On Sunday morning they had a win over Sherwood Park, but were not in playoff position. Marty reports having a good time with the team, making many new friends, and enjoyed having the opportunity to see Provincial Play.

A reminder that Funnell bus-to-swim will be from August 17-28 at the Drayton Valley pool.

There will be a bridal shower for Karen Linde at Funnell community centre on August 22 at 2 p.m. Ladies please bring lunch.

PUBLIC NOTICE WATER RESOURCES ACT GROUND WATER DIVERSION

Amoco Canada Petroleum Company Ltd. has obtained an Exploration Permit to make necessary examinations and surveys under the Water Resources Act to determine the feasibility of diverting a possible maximum of 55,000 Canadian gallons of water per day (74 acre-feet per annum) from a well(s) on the NE 36-52-13-W6 for industrial (injection) purposes. The depth interval to be investigated is from 80 feet to 495 feet.

Notice is hereby given that should the examinations and surveys prove successful application and plans will be filed under provisions of the Water Resources Act for a licence to construct the necessary works to divert water in the amount stipulated above.

Any person having a bona fide interest in the matter may file objections with the Controller of Water Resources, Alberta Environment, Oxbridge Place, Edmonton on or before the 4th day of September, 1987.

Bigger not always better

By Carlton C. Carrot
Prize winning vegetables are usually moderate in size. Bigger is not always best. The judge is looking for veggies that will be delicious to eat. Practically all over-sized garden vegetables are coarse and of low quality. Under-sized vegetables are often the result of poor growing conditions and therefore the quality is poor. All vegetable specimens should be as uniform as possible in color, maturity shape and size.

Color in vegetables should be bright clear and attractive. Color is largely a matter of condition and is often a good index of the care of the vegetables.

Condition in vegetables refers to the freedom from blemishes, caused by insects, diseases, soil or mechanical damage. Vegetables should be "reasonably free" of damages.

Some vegetables seem to give exhibitors more trouble than others. Here are the standards for a couple of "troublesome" vegetables.

Cabbage — heads should be uniform, firm and of moderate size 12-20 cm in diameter. They should be free of pest injury. Stalks should be removed but one or two wrapper leaves should be retained. The head must be firm.

Cauliflower — heads should be 15-20 cm in diameter, uniform in color. The form should be smooth and regular with good depth of curd (the part you eat). The curd should be pure white in color with no green leaves showing through. Stalk and outer leaves should be removed; those leaves remaining should be trimmed off 1 cm above the level of the head.

Every "veggie" has its special qualifications and our local agricultural office has a book that will help you with standards.

If you have a huge veggie or one that is a bit "odd" enter that veggie in our special class for large and freak vegetables.

Have a "crunching good week". See you next week so we can discuss sewing.

So please consider the following honest bribes from D.V. Nissan. And pay particular attention to the vehicles mentioned. They are among the finest money can buy.

Open House Canada

All that remains are the memories

By Megan Parker
All that remains of the Open House Canada 4-H exchange for those involved this year is the memories and snapshots—hundreds of snapshots.

Recently 10 members from Picton, Ontario boarded the airplane ending their 10-day stay in Drayton Valley.

Ten members between the ages of 14 and 21 were chosen from the Drayton Valley district (housing seven 4-H clubs) to visit Picton, following this the local group welcomed the Picton members into their area homes for a further 10 days.

The purpose of the exchange according to trip chaperones Colene Davie and Muriel Hartley is to expose 4-H members to history, culture and geography of other parts of Canada and at the same time provide for interesting and fun social interaction.

"Like the (4-H) motto, learn to do by doing, they really did," said Hartley.

The Drayton Valley group was billeted in homes, many of which were century-old, in different towns in Prince Edward County on Quinte's Isle, which is a peninsula in the middle of Lake Ontario.

During their stay Picton celebrated a 150th birthday and Canada Day festivities were held.

"Their Canada Day celebration is much more extravagant than ours," says Hartley.

The main difference in comparing Picton area to Drayton Valley was the heritage says Davie.

"Everyone knew the area history and where their

Open House Canada exchange chaperones Colene Davie and Muriel Hartley homes originated and its background," said Davie.

Picton's population is approximately 5,000 in winter and jumps to 10,000 in summer months.

"Although it's such a resort area the farmers have priority," explained Hartley, adding, "While visiting Bloomfield Pottery (described as a posh place) you could smell a pig farm."

During their stay in Ontario the group toured the parliament buildings in Ottawa, Niagara Falls, Canada's Wonderland, the CN Tower, other parts of Toronto and boarded the Thousand Island boat cruise among many other stops.

Because Picton is on a peninsula they travelled by ferry explained the chaperones.

Once the 10-day excursion in Ontario was over the group returned home with the Picton members to Drayton Valley.

Locally 4-H toured Mobil's oil fields and the Sturdi Wood plant, the planned visit to the Brazeau was cancelled due to rain.

Taking in Klondike Days, Jasper and the sky-tram and West Edmonton Mall along with the Alberta legislative building (where M.L.A. Shirley Cripps met them) was on the agenda.

"A real highlight for the kids was the mountains — they were so excited, these kids hadn't seen mountains before," said Hartley.

Both Davie and Hartley are very thankful for the support the 4-H exchange received in Drayton Valley.

While at home "Businesses donated the bus and money for tickets and meals," Davie said.

Hartley added, "I don't think we could have done a quarter of what we did if it weren't for the support we received."

The Open House Canada 4-H exchange is sponsored by the Department of the Canadian Secretary of State who provided the airline tickets for the trips.

This year 98 applications requesting an opportunity to take part in the exchange were received by the Canadian 4-H Council in Ottawa.

Of the 98 cross-Canada 4-H groups who applied 56 were chosen to participate.

Davie and Hartley said they all had a great trip and in most cases for the kids involved it was the first opportunity they had to travel.

Fish derby to pick up

Just over one month remains in Rick's Sporting Goods summer fish derby and the competition is expected to pick up, says spokesman Colin Donovan.

The derby runs through Sept. 7 in pike, pickerel, perch, trout, and hidden weight categories.

Valuable prizes may be won, and no entry fee or registration is needed.

Leading in the trout category is Bill Hutchinson with his 5 lb. 8 oz. catch from the Braseau River.

Bill Brunditt leads with a 2 lb. 13 oz. walleye from Buck Lake.

Wabamun Lake rendered the weightiest pike for Brent Long - 11 lb. 10 oz. So far Gale Kuzio's catch at Buck Lake has the lead with a 1 lb. 7 oz. perch.

Donovan expects the winning pike to be heavier since every year it has been over 20 lbs.

Fishermen may enter as many fish as they want, but fish must be caught within a 100 mile radius of Drayton Valley and weighed in at the store.

Oldtimers bring home Sask. Cup

Drayton Valley took home the Saskatchewan Cup at the Western Canadian oldtimers baseball tournament.

The event, held July 25 and 26, was a 22-team tourney that matched up the best teams in Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

The Saskatchewan Cup was the second event of the tourney, and can be roughly translated as meaning second place, said Drayton Valley spokesman Adrian Meier.

Meier added that Drayton Valley and Winnipeg — the team it eventually contested for the cup — were considered the top two teams involved in the tourney.

Drayton Valley came from behind to beat Winnipeg 6-3.

The tournament was held in Kindersley, Saskatchewan.

Water instructor Jurgen Erxleben, demonstrates how to measure water flow with 4-H conservation camp participant Lisa Vowk.

Drayton Valley girl at 4-H camp

Lisa Vowk of Drayton Valley recently learned about some of the major concerns facing our environment today and in the future.

She was among the 54 Alberta 4-H members who attended the 22nd annual Alberta 4-H Conservation Camp held July 19-26 at the Silver Creek Ranch northwest of Calgary.

Cosponsored by Alberta Power Limited and TransAlta Utilities, the conservation camp also gives delegates a chance to meet and exchange ideas with fellow 4-H club members from Alberta, along with 4-H visitors from Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Montana.

The 4-Hers choose to concentrate in two of five resource areas: forest, soil, water, range, and fish and wildlife. The inter-relationship between these resources gives meaning to the camps theme, Five is One. Group discussions and study sessions are led by resource specialists from Alberta Environment, Alberta Agriculture, Olds College and Alberta Forest Service.

A resource development session was conducted by Alberta Power Limited and TransAlta Utilities. During the session delegates applied their knowledge by taking various positions relating to a proposed power development which would have significant social and environmental impacts.

"TransAlta Utilities is committed to promoting conservation awareness among Alberta's youth and hopes the message is spread long after the camp is over," said Stuart Adams, community relations representative. The utilities present The Grant MacEwan Conservation Award annually to the delegate who best communicates the conservation message to the public following the camp.

Another benefit of the conservation camp is the opportunity for leadership qualities to develop among delegates. Tony Canevaro of Manitoba and Shelley Meakin of Morinville were identified as leaders when they were voted top male and female campers by their peers.

Hire-A-Student

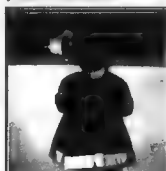

Centre Manager

The summer is nearing to an end and my office activities are still booming, due to the nice weather we have been experiencing.

Job opportunities have been very good for the students this year, considering the slow down in the economy. I have been pleased by the community and their support for Hire-A-Student. There have been 109 placements, through my office so far this summer and each has offered experience and a little spending money for the students. The students have also helped to make my job easier this summer by being energetic and enthusiastic about the jobs they perform. The employers have given me good reports on the work the students have done and have been quite generous as far as wages, all the jobs have been over minimum wage.

I would like to remind students and employers that my office will be closing on August 12. If you would like to place a job order then call me at 542-2688 or visit my office at the Chamber of Commerce. For anyone interested, I am pleased to announce that after all his hard work, Maverick has found a job for the summer.

Bacteria removedDrying foods the oldest form of food preservation

Drying foods in the sun is one of the oldest methods of food preservation. Dried dates, raisins, apricots, cereals and fish have been recorded as far back as biblical times. Our early settlers relied on dried foods as their main means of sustenance during the long, cold winters.

Drying preserves food by removing 80-90 per cent of the water so spoilage organisms such as bacteria, yeast and mold are able to grow and reproduce.

Outdoors, food can be dried on trays in the sun. It must be covered to protect it from insects and dirt. A solar drier may also be used so that heat from the sun passes through glass and is kept within a container to intensify the sun's rays. This method of drying is not recommended in Alberta though due to the unpredictable weather we have.

Indoors, food can be dried either in the oven or by using a food dehydrator. There are two kinds of dehydrators—forced air and convection. A forced air dryer has a heat source with a fan to circulate heated air over the food. A convection dryer relies on warm air naturally circulating upward to dry the food.

To dry food in your oven it must maintain a temperature of 60-65°C (140°F). Test it with a thermometer for at least one hour before using it to dry food. Oven racks can be converted to drying trays by covering them with several layers of lightly stretched nylon net or cheesecloth. They should be easy to clean and have mesh small enough to prevent finely diced produce from falling through. When drying in the oven leave the door slightly ajar to allow moisture to escape and rotate trays every half hour to prevent scorching.

Fruits and vegetables must be pre-treated before drying to help retain color, flavor and nutritional value. Vegetables are treated by blanching. Fruits can be dipped in a solution of sodium bisulfate or ascorbic acid and water; blanched in a sugar syrup or steamed. The quality of the end product varies with the different pre-treatment methods.

When loading the drying trays it is important to allow enough room for the warm air to circulate around the food. Fruits must be placed cut side up to hold the natural juices released in the initial stages of drying.

Drying times for various foods depend on many factors. Indoor methods of drying usually take from four to 16 hours while outdoor methods take two to six days. When food is almost dry it becomes very heat sensitive and prone to scorching. The temperature should be reduced and the food checked and stirred often.

Dried vegetables are brittle, tough, crumbly or crisp when done while fruits are pliable, leathery and have no evidence of surface moisture or juice.

Dried food can be stored in a cool, dry, dark place for a maximum of one year. To extend the storage time it can be put in the refrigerator or freezer. Dried food should be checked monthly for moisture build-up and spoilage. If a product has absorbed moisture it can be redried.

The advantages of dried food are that it requires a limited amount of storage space, is lightweight, compares in nutritional value to other preserved products and can be made inexpensively if you use your oven. Dried fruit, vegetables and meats are particularly suitable for backpackers and campers. The disadvantages of drying food are that it is very time consuming, you have to be around near the end of the drying time and some foods, such as cauliflower cannot be dried successfully.

If this fall you find that you can no longer stand the pressure of canning, your freezer is overflowing, you're sour on pickles and out of jam and jelly jars...dry it...who knows, you might like it!

A Message from the Minister of Hospitals and Medical Care about Eye Examinations

Dear Albertans:

In May you received a pamphlet in the mail which outlined changes that would be made to Alberta Health Care coverage effective August 1, 1987. One of these changes involved removing the coverage for a standard eye examination except for senior citizens and their dependents; widows and widowers receiving the Alberta Widow's Pension and their dependents; and children 18 years of age and younger. The fee paid by Alberta Health Care to optometrists for providing standard eye examinations to people in these groups increased from $24.85 to $31.75. Optometrists were asked to agree to accept this amount as payment in full for eye examinations for seniors and children. We felt that this amount was fair, and in fact, optometrists were the only professional group to receive an increase from Alberta Health Care when the changes were announced. It should be noted that ophthalmologists, who have significantly greater training than optometrists, have accepted the $31.75 as full payment for standard eye examinations for children and seniors.

In late June we wrote to all optometrists in Alberta and asked them to agree to not extra bill seniors and children above the new increased fee schedule of $31.75. As of this date only a few optometrists have agreed to end extra billing; we think it would be very unfair to ask seniors and children to pay extra.

Because we have no agreement with optometrists, we are going to ask you to take the following steps if you are in the group covered by Alberta Health Care (seniors and children).

First determine if your optometrist has agreed not to extra bill above the new $31.75 fee. If this is the case, the optometrist will bill Alberta Health Care directly for your standard eye examination.

If your optometrist has not agreed to end extra billing, then you will be required to submit the bill directly to Alberta Health Care at one of the addresses listed below. Alberta Health Care will reimburse you for the cost of an eye examination to a maximum of $31.75, and then you can pay your optometrist.

We feel it is very important that seniors and children be protected from paying extra for this service. Because of this, we will continue efforts to have the optometrists end extra billing and direct bill Alberta Health Care for you. I hope that the situation with the optometrists can be resolved quickly and with as little inconvenience to you as possible.

Thank you for your co-operation
Yours truly,

Marvin Moore

Alder Flats' Pioneer Village

Man rebuilding old-west replica

Main house at Len Mohr's Pioneer Village.

The 'Lost Woman Hotel' is under construction.

The barn houses horses and chickens.

Everyone's favorite stop — the saloon.

He removed Will Carter from the old phonograph player and pointed out the leather and beaded moccasins he'd seen hanging nearby.

Half-way sighing he said all his town needs now is a church and a school.

For some building their own home is a dream — but, Len Mohr's project was to construct a village.

"I wanted to build a town to be mayor, but I'm really the janitor," he quipped.

Len Mohr's village, dubbed the Pioneer Village, is a replica of the old west located along Rose creek four miles southwest of Alder Flats.

Inside the gates are two rows of log buildings built to scale, facing each other across the grassy road.

At the end of main street is the big house, home to Mohr, built completely of logs and tin for the roof.

When Mohr isn't busy with the village maintenance or construction of the new hotel (soon to be the Lost Woman Hotel) he's doing handi-work at home or having coffee with the boys down at the golf course.

Mohr spends many hours in the cozy main house stitching moccasins, plus buffalo, jean or leather coats. Some of the jackets he makes are out of old jeans he said.

In the winter months Mohr says about 50 visitors come to his village per week.

Mohr greets an abundance of individual visitors plus many service groups or children's organizations.

"Kids love to play here," he said, adding, "Playing sheriff seems to be their favorite." One of the town's buildings is a small jail complete with a cell.

He says his reasons for constructing the town are simple — it gives him something to do, and "When I think about it, it keeps me young."

Canada Food Guide

Local grocery stores offer large selection of diet foods

By Megan Parker
If the little voice inside you chants "fatty fatty two by four" when you look in the mirror, it might be time to look into dieting...again.

Before you grab the last piece of delicious strawberry cheesecake from the fridge it may be useful to know Drayton Valley has many options available to aid in shedding those few extra pounds.

The local grocery stores have a huge selection of diet foods, the Rig, pool and school's offer programs such as weight training, aerobics and aquatics, and weight loss centres such as the Diet Centre, Weight Watchers and Tops can offer ideas and support to would-be dieters.

Mary Poloway of the Diet Centre says a dieter can choose his of her own type of diet but, "There's no miracle out there, you can't fool yourself."

Hospital nutritionists and doctors use of the Canada Food Guide can provide the dieter with a nutritional menu to follow she said.

Poloway also stresses the importance of good health, not just losing weight.

"You just can't count calories, you have to get a balance of all the nutrients the body needs," she explained.

Exercise along with dieting is extremely important also says Poloway, especially for the shorter dieter.

She feels it important that everyone see their doctor before starting any diet — no matter how overweight.

Everything a dieter needs can be found locally at either IGA or Bloks.

Beginning with the produce section, which Poloway says is the best diet food going, where a dieter will find fresh fruits and vegetables.

Weight Watchers has introduced a full line of low calorie products for the weight-conscious. Low-cal frozen treats include ice cream, popsicles and fudgies.

Pudding, jello, candies, jams, cookies, pie fillings and artificial sweeteners are all made low-cal to satisfy the sweet tooth.

Calorie reduced soups, mayonnaise and salad dressings can be found in abundance, plus full meals such as McCain's Lite Delite.

To quench the thirst is of course diet sodas, and diet juices, ice tea and hot chocolate.

When choosing a calorie reduced product or something labelled "natural" Poloway says it is important to read the ingredients as some will still contain sugar and oil.

And, when dealing with fruit and vegetables fresh in best, frozen a second choice and "as a last resort canned", she explained.

A dieter should try to change their eating habits, not just look to losing weight emphasized Poloway.

Fresh vegetables are best for dieting.

Full low-cal meals in frozen food section.

Farmers invited to ag branch

Alberta farmers are invited to the August 7 crops research field day at the Alberta Agriculture field crops branch in Lacombe.

This annual event provides farmers an opportunity to meet specialists and scientists and receive a guided tour of the research plots. The branch specializes in research involving new varieties of barley, spring and winter triticale (a man-made cross between rye and wheat) and winter wheat.

Some research work has also been done with special crops. Producers are encouraged to be at the field crops research centre, one mile south of Lacombe on the east side of Highway 2A at 1 p.m. For more information contact the field crops branch at 782-4641.

Long drives

Tips to avoid fatigue

Summer vacations often mean long drives.

Most of us are aware that driver fatigue is an undesirable condition, but after ten months of driving routinely to work and back many drivers will suddenly attempt to drive incredible distance in one day. The result can be tragic.

The CSC offers these tips to drivers who wish to avoid becoming fatigued.

1. Be well rested before starting the trip.
2. Avoid heaving foods and alcoholic beverage immediately before starting and during the journey.
3. If using prescribed drugs, know their effects on driving (e.g., drowsiness hallucinations, etc.).

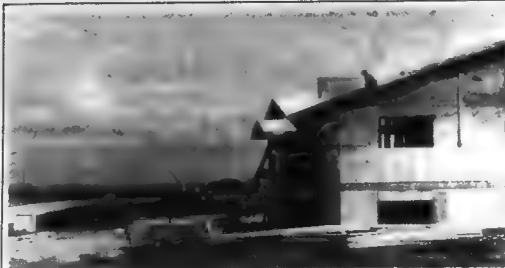

4. Wear good quality sunglasses in bright daylight. Don't permit your eyes to become fixed on the road ahead, keep them moving, scanning the traffic scene.

5. Keep the vehicle well ventilated.

6. Stop at least every two hours for a break — get out and walk around. Have an occasional snack.

If, despite precaution, you still feel drowsy there is only one choice: stop and sleep.

Stay rested, enjoy the drive, enjoy the summer!

Right on track

Workers continue development of the Boardwalk sub-division on the east-side of town.

Graduating class holding reunion

By Mae Tryon
642-5792

The Lindale School Association's Slow-pitch Tournament that was held July 17, 18, and 19 went very well in spite of the rain.

Many thanks to all the volunteers who worked so hard to make this a success. Thanks to all the teams who came.

The community extends sympathy to the family of the late Mrs. Emma Vogel who passed away in early July. Mrs. Vogel was a long-time resident of the Berrymoor area.

The community extends sympathy to the family of the late Martin Litsa who passed away July 10.

The graduating classes of 1966 and 1967 from Breton High School are holding a reunion August 8 and 9 at the Lindale hall. There will be a supper and dance on Saturday, August 8. Anyone who went to Breton school at this time and would like to attend please phone Dennis Martin 642-2991, Garry Phillips 642-5761 or Mae Tryon 642-5792 for more information.

Congratulations to Terry and Noreen Carrothers (nee Robb) on the birth of a baby girl in early July. A sister for David and Amy.

Get well wishes go to Dorothy Cropley who is recovering from an operation she had in late June. Also get well wishes go to Olive Mays of Lindale who is recovering in the University hospital following a single vehicle accident.

After being gone for a month travelling to Ontario and back again, we welcome Donald and Isobel Martin. They visited with many of Donald's relatives in Ontario. They found the weather in Ontario very hot but only to return to Alberta when we are having very hot weather. In spite of the hot weather, welcome home Mom and Dad.

In late June and early July, Joy Gavigan, Tricia Martin and Brett Schwartz from the Lin-Berry-Buck 4-H club went on a 4-H exchange to Picton, Ontario. While there they stayed in three different homes with other 4-Hers of their age. They were taken to a harbor fest, went shopping, toured the beaches and spent a couple days in Ottawa. Then they returned home and the young people they were with came for 10 days. While here they toured West Edmonton Mall, went to Jasper for two days, and took in Klonike Days. They also toured Mobil Oil and the Sturdi-wood Plant.

'Working adventure'

Japanese agricultural exchange

Young Alberta men and women with an agricultural background, looking for a year of foreign experience and adventure, should consider a Japanese exchange program sponsored by Alberta Agriculture and Olds College.

The Alberta-Hokkaido Agriculture Exchange is accepting applications again this year, to send men and women between 18 and 28 years of age, with a farm background, to Alberta's sister province in Japan.

"It's a working adventure," says Brent Waite, of Olds, a former Hokkaido exchange participant. "Those who qualify will spend a year of working and learning on a Japanese farm."

"They will be paid a nominal rate for their labor, and will learn about the Japanese agriculture industrial, language and culture. At the same time they will be sharing their Canadian culture with the Japanese family."

Waite, raised on a Beltz-area farm, is now assistant co-ordinator of the extension services department at Olds College.

After Alberta and Hokkaido declared themselves sister provinces in 1972 several exchange programs were developed.

Hokkaido, northernmost of Japan's main islands is considered the country's last frontier. Dairy and beef cattle farming dominate its wide open spaces.

Costs associated with the program are shared by Alberta Agriculture and the college. The program is carefully screened and monitored by exchange officials.

"All the participant has to bring is the desire to work and learn, and a sense of adventure," says Waite.

The program is open to agriculture students (those attending university, college, or other agriculture programs), or those with farm experience.

The students or trainees must be involved in areas of dairy, beef, sheep, horse, grain or mixed farming. They must be between 18 and 28; be in good health as indicated by a Medical Health Certificate; be hard working; and, they must attend all seminars, orientations, courses and other activities aimed at preparing them for the trip.

Application deadline is November 1 and departure on the year-long program is slated for the following spring.

For more information on the Alberta/Hokkaido exchange contact the Department of Extension Services, Olds College, Olds, Alberta T0M0 1P0, or phone 556-8353 or 556-8153.

Janet Gail Kugyelka has graduated with distinction from the Faculty of Medicine, University of Alberta with a Doctor of Medicine Degree. She is the daughter of John and Elizabeth Kugyelka of the Funnell District and a graduate of Breton High School.

She will spend the next year in an internship program at Memorial University in St. John's, Newfoundland.

The Notebook

By Cpl. Grant Gilster

A common concern of many motorists is the demerit point system, and how it works in Alberta. Demerit points are imposed and recorded on the driving record of a person who, is convicted of an offence and not suspended, or a person who pays a voluntary payment for an offence, or forfeits bail in relation to a charge.

When eight or more (but less than fifteen) demerit points have accumulated the driver is mailed a notice of their point standing. When fifteen demerit points have accumulated the driver's licence of that person is suspended for one month. The second demerit point suspension within one year the driver's licence is suspended for three months. Should a third or more demerit point suspension occur within two years the driver's licence is suspended for six months in each instance.

Only three demerits may be removed every two years. After two years from the date of conviction the points assessed are removed from the record. When the suspension has expired the driver is reinstated with seven demerits.

A person may have three demerit points removed from the record when the point total is fourteen or less. To accomplish this a driver must provide proof that they have successfully completed a course in defensive driving.

Yard and rural

Beauty contest

A yard and rural beautification competition is once again part of this year's Agricultural Fair.

Entrants will be judged in either urban or rural categories and will be scrutinized in the area of home grounds or vegetable gardens.

Only those registered will be judged and deadline for entries is Saturday, August 8.

In the home grounds category judgement will be based on general arrangement and effect, cleanliness, lawns, trees and shrubs and flowers.

Vegetable garden judging will concentrate on the quality of the crops, cleanliness, variety, space economy and succession cropping and arrangement.

Hot Dog!

Pictured above is Marian Thomas and daughter Jeri Gilbert, with their award winning miniature dachshunds Megan, Mandy and Rosco. The mother and daughter duo have been showing the dogs in Western Canada since May 15 and have already won dozens of awards. Megan has received the champion conformation title in 13 shows against mature and champion dogs. Rosco also earned the champion conformation title in 11 shows, while Mandy earned the obedience companion dog title in eight shows. The dogs have also been awarded with several best of breeds, best of opposite, best of winners and best of puppy in breed titles.

Child bearing

Courses offered regularly through health unit

Some people find being pregnant the most exciting thing that could happen to them, and yet they're still faced with uncertainties. Let's face it - knowing everything about being pregnant doesn't come naturally. It's nice to be able to turn to someone reliable for advice.

An Early Pregnancy Course is offered regularly by community health nurses at the Edson, Hinton, Drayton Valley and Grande Cache offices of the Alberta West Central Health Unit.

The Early Pregnancy Course is a relatively quick orientation to pregnancy. It is intended for parents between the 6th week and 6th month. It consists of three evening classes that run for about two hours.

Classes are based on participation of both parents. However, if the father is unable to attend, bringing a friend is quite acceptable.

The purpose of Early Pregnancy Classes is to provide the knowledge and resources to help support: a healthy mom, a healthy pregnancy, a healthy baby.

Understanding the childbearing process and the functions of the female body during pregnancy is a basic objective of the classes.

The instructor explains the baby's development and the factors that can affect his or her growth. Some of the contributing factors include genetics, nutrition, lifestyle and environment.

The class discusses the discomforts that go along with being pregnant. Suggestions for relief are offered.

The nurse advises on the need for regular medical attention throughout the pregnancy. She discusses warning signs and symptoms to be aware of, as well as general hazards such as exposure to communicable disease.

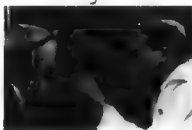

Body mechanics and muscle toning exercises help to maintain good posture and fitness. They aid parents in being more comfortable and relaxed during all the adjustments.

Bottle feeding and breast-feeding information is made available to assist parents in making a knowledgeable decision for what's best for them.

If you would like to enroll in an Early Pregnancy class or know someone who would be interested, please contact your local office of the Alberta West Central Health Unit: Drayton Valley, 542-4415; Edson, 723-4421; Evansburg, 727-2288; Grande Cache, 527-3504; Hinton, 865-2277.

Alberta's Optometrists care about your Health Care

Basic eye exams are necessary

Albertans understand the importance of having a regular eye examination. Your vision is so precious. Eye exams can also detect the onset of serious diseases such as diabetes, high blood pressure, cataracts, glaucoma and of course, other conditions that may lead to blindness.

That is why basic eye examinations have always been covered for the most part by Alberta Health Care. But the Alberta Government has now decided to completely delist eye examinations for Albertans 19 to 64 years of age. This means all those people—who are still paying the full amount for Alberta Health Care through increased premiums and taxes—will now have to also pay the full cost for basic eye examinations.

Why should people who have already paid have to pay again for this important health care service. Health care options, like cosmetic surgery, should be paid for by the people who want those options. An eye exam is entirely different. It is a basic health service. It should be covered by taxes and health care premiums just like an annual checkup from your family physician.

To deny a basic health care service to those who are already paying for the health care system is nonsense!

Why are health care costs so high?

Costs of health care in Alberta are climbing. There is also no doubt that the situation has to be brought under control.

We should manage public health care expenditures so all important and basic health care needs are met. A regular eye exam is a basic health care need!

Why are costs climbing? Let's take a look at some new costs created by poor government planning.

The cost of a basic vision exam performed by your optometrist is approximately $40.00, mostly covered by Alberta Health Care. BUT after August 1st, the Alberta Government encourages you to go through complicated and unnecessary medical appointments which will result in a cost to Alberta Health Care of $55.00 or more for a vision exam for Albertans 19 to 64 years of age.

Is it any wonder health care costs are out of control?

Seniors and Children?

In the past, Alberta governments have done so much for our seniors and children. This time the Alberta Government tried to make certain — or so it thought — that our seniors and children would not be affected by delisting basic vision exams for everyone else.

Somebody goofed! If nothing changes after August 1st, seniors and children may also have to use complicated and unnecessary medical appointments — in the few cities where they are available — or pay the full costs themselves to optometrists for a service that was supposed to be covered by Alberta Health Care!

Why should seniors and children have to suffer all these inconveniences?

Negotiate and Plan

Why did these problems happen at all? These problems have come about only because the Alberta Government insisted that the Alberta Association of Optometrists agree to the Government plan to delist eye care group of Albertans. Everybody should be treated equally!

The Alberta Association of Optometrists is the official and legal agent to negotiate relevant eye care matters with the Government. But we have never been given the chance. Mr. Moore, Minister of Hospitals and Medical Care, refuses to negotiate these basic health care issues with us.

Here's what we can do.

The Alberta Association of Optometrists will do everything possible to help the Alberta Government change its mind about its one-sided decision to delist basic vision exams. Please help yourself and your family. Call or write your MLA, the Premier or talk with your friends and neighbors about losing basic health care coverage.

Together we can make a difference.

Grave yard vandalized

By Alana Johnson
127-3511

Long-time friends from Dawson Creek were visitors at the home of Dick and Zetta MacRae for a few days.

Birthday greetings go out to Steve Yurkiewicz who celebrated his 75 birthday with a party given by his son and daughter-in-law, Bob and Toni on July 16.

Michelle MacRae hosted a make-up party at her home on July 22 with Shelley Sauve as the demonstrator and make-up artist.

The grass was cut and the new sign posts put up at the last workbee at Brightwood Cemetery. Neighborhood watch is on the look-out as some vandalism has taken place with vases being broken, crosses pulled out and some grave stones moved!

The children of Bob and 'Toni' Yurkiewicz, Loralee.

Melanie and Loany spent a week visiting their grandmother at Lloydminster.

Glenn and Charlene Johnson attended the Hereford show at the Red Deer Western Exposition.

helpful hints to a Great ALBERTA Break!

AUG. 1-31

Alberta is alive with exciting activities in our cities, towns, parks and playgrounds, there's always something fun going on! Share in all that our province offers. Plan an Alberta break today! Here are some great ideas to get you going.

1. 5 interconnecting lakes make William A. Switzer Provincial Park an ideal spot for an extended weekend or perhaps weekday camping. Fish for pike and whitefish in the lakes and trout in Jarvis Creek. Gregg Lake campground offers showers.

2. The Can-Am Sport Pursuiting Championships, Red Deer, Aug. 19-23, will draw over 100 competitors from Canada and the U.S. These pursuits will dive from aircraft over 10,000 ft. up and execute demanding routines in 4 and 8 way relative canopy formations. Plan to attend the Western Canadian Hot Air Balloon Championships, Red Deer, Aug. 28-30.

3. The University of Alberta Devonian Botanic Garden is located on Hwy 60, 5 km north of the Devon Bridge (follow Hwy 16W or Hwy 2S). You will enjoy nature trails, and herb, perennial, Alpine (rock), and native people's gardens. The gift shop offers handmade items. Open daily, 10-6, until Sept. 27.

4. Edmonton's Space Science Centre presents "...The Grand Canyon... The Hidden Secrets", a journey through the world's most famous natural wonder, and "Flyers", a story of the exploits of a fictional pilot, aircraft restorer and movie stunt pilot, both being shown through Sept. 7, on the Devonian Theatre's Imax Screen.

5. Over 700 antique cars, trucks, fire engines, airplanes, tractors, steam engines, and horse drawn vehicles make up the collection which can be seen at the "Reynolds Museum", Wetaskiwin. Open daily 10-5 through Sept. 7.

For more information on these and other events, check your Great Alberta Breaks tabloid or call Travel Alberta toll-free at:

Sneezing the way through season a common problem

Sniffing? Sneezing? Join the crowd.

Fifteen per cent of Canadians suffer from allergies or "hay fever" each spring.

Hay fever, or allergic rhinitis, is an allergic reaction usually caused by pollinating trees, grasses or plants. Since these substances are around only part of the year, hay fever tends to be seasonal. But allergies can be perennial, meaning they stuff up your nose and make your eyes itch year-round if they are caused by dust, moulds or pets.

"The common symptoms of hay fever are sneezing; an itchy, running and stuffy nose; itchy eyes; blocked sinuses and a burning throat," says Dr. Larry Rosen, a Toronto allergist. If you have all these cold-like symptoms for more than a week then chances are you have an allergy or hay fever.

Allergies are abnormal reactions to substances in the environment. Allergies happen when your body's immune system develops a sensitivity to a certain substance called an allergen. Allergens stimulate your body to produce antibodies. When the allergens and the antibodies react together, histamine is released within the body producing allergic symptoms such as swelling and itching.

Despite a common misconception, you can't be allergic to something you've never encountered. Your body must first be exposed so your immune system can develop a specific sensitivity. But you might become allergic to it on your second or third encounter.

For example, you might not become allergic to your new cat until months after you have bought it.

"The first thing to do if you think you have an allergy or hay fever is go to your family doctor who may suggest you see an allergist or may recommend that all you need is an antihistamine," says Rosen. "He will be able to pinpoint the cause of your misery and help you to take steps to eliminate your allergy symptoms."

Allergies and hay fever can never be cured but they can be controlled. Once you and your doctor have discovered the cause of your allergy, treatment begins.

The first step is avoidance of the cause — and it can be difficult to avoid the allergic substance, especially if it's the family pet. If you're lucky it may mean simply not eating a certain food.

Whatever the cause, avoidance is the first step you'll need to take.

Your doctor or pharmacist can suggest a variety of treatments for your allergies. Antihistamines are the most commonly used. They counteract the effects of histamine and are available at your local drugstore.

Market development

Californians taste AB products

Consumers in part of the United States southwest had an opportunity to taste Alberta food products during a recent in-store promotion in California, Arizona and Nevada.

Alberta Agriculture's market development division was involved in the promotion of Alberta foods in the Los Angeles division of the Safeway food store chain.

The "Taste of Canada" promotion involved 190 stores in a division that stretches from the Mexican border, as far north as Fresno. The division includes part of Arizona and Nevada. Safeway has 18.3 per cent of the market in southern California, which has a population of 16 million.

The "Taste of Canada" promotion was advertised in a flyer published by Safeway and offered prizes of 10 trips for two to Alberta for two days via Canadian International Air.

The six Alberta companies and products represented in the promotion were Bee Maid (honey), Cheemo (perogies), Drummond (beer, Clark label), Fletcher's (bacon), Gainers (pork), and Sunland (cookies). One third of the total Canadian sales over the week long promotion were from Alberta.

Will Walker, market development trade director for the west coast, hosted a reception and showed a group of Safeway executives the "Alberta Advantage" video.

The video produced by Alberta Agriculture emphasizes the diversity of agriculture in the province. Walker told the group that "Alberta would like to see a reduction in the present extensive trade deficit in agriculture that exists with California, mainly due to fruit and vegetable importations."

The trade director said Canadian processors were pleased to have the opportunity to promote their products in California and hoped that "Canada Week" would continue. John Rodgers, Safeway marketing operations manager for the 190-store division said the 1988 promotion will be "bigger and better."

For more information contact Will Walker at market development, Alberta Agriculture in Edmonton at 427-4241.
